Submit curriculum vitae with the application. The information should include a summary of academic record, degrees, and academic honors achieved; membership and activities in professional societies; and other scholarly and professional activities.

Part D- Program and Plans

Please address each of the following three requirements individually on separate sheets of paper:

- 1) Provide a brief autobiographical sketch.
- 2) Provide a description of the training program that you are pursuing, with particular reference to the drug information component. Include dates of enrollment and anticipated completion date.
- 3) Provide a brief statement of your professional plans and goals. Please include:
 - a) Your vision of pharmacy's future and its role within the health professions
 - b) How you expect to contribute to this future
 - c) A description of your ideal position upon program completion.

Part E- References

The applicant should also have submitted on his/her behalf two letters of recommendation. One should come from his/her major advisor, preceptor, director of the drug information program or other suitable reference. These letters of recommendation should confirm the applicant's standing in a postgraduate education program and describe the scope and duration of the drug information component of the applicant's program. Both letters of recommendation should provide further reference to the applicant's scholarship, professional attributes and any other factor deemed relevant to the scholarship evaluation process. NOTE: It is the applicant's responsibility to obtain letters of reference from the persons here named. All letters of recommendation must be received by Wolters Kluwer Health by June 1. Please follow up, if necessary, to ensure a prompt reply from each reference.

Signature of Applicant

The Wolters Kluwer Health Scholarship provides a $5,000 stipend to a student pursuing advanced training, specializing or with a major emphasis, in drug information practice.

Eligibility

Applicants must be entering their final year of training in either a drug information residency or a fellowship program with a major emphasis on drug information. The applicant must also have earned, or will have earned, an MS or PharmD degree. For example, the typical applicant will be starting his/her drug information residency (or fellowship) in July and will have earned his/her PharmD or MS degree.

Application

The completed application will include the following:

1. Application Form

The completed application form will include: A brief autobiographical sketch; a description of the training program the applicant is pursuing, with specific reference to the drug information component; dates of enrollment and completion date; and a brief statement of future plans and goals.

2. Curriculum Vitae

The CV should summarize previous academic record, including: Colleges attended, degrees and academic honors achieved, membership and activities in professional societies, and any other scholarly or professional activities.

3. Letters of Reference

The applicant should also have submitted on his/her behalf two letters of recommendation as described in the application form.

4. Academic Transcript

A copy of a complete transcript of the applicant's academic record must be submitted.

Selection Criteria

The criteria for selection among the applicants includes academic achievement, scholarly activities and professional attributes. Selection of the scholarship recipient will be made by the selection committee based on evaluation of the application materials and personal references. The selection committee cannot consider any application that is incomplete, or is not supported by all of the required data.

Award

The $5,000 scholarship will be granted upon recommendation of the selection committee. Deadline for submission of applications is June 1. The scholarship winner will be notified by July 1.
